

REQUEST FOR NONSTANDARD TESTING ARRANGEMENTS

Social Work Licensing Exam

Information for candidates with documented disabilities or other health conditions

In order to register and pay for an examination with ASWB, you must first be approved to sit for the ASWB examination by your state or provincial social work board and you must request and receive approval for any nonstandard testing arrangements.

ASWB complies with applicable laws related to the development, administration, scoring, and maintenance of its examination program. The association strives to balance the legal requirements of examination administration with discretionary arrangements. ASWB ensures that all candidates are provided with an opportunity to demonstrate the knowledge, skills, and abilities intended to be tested.

Arrangements must be reasonable and cannot, under any circumstances, alter the ability of the examination to adequately assess entry-level competence nor alter the format of the examination. ASWB will make any necessary determinations under all applicable federal, state, provincial, and local legislation, including but not limited to the Americans with Disabilities Act.

In the standard ASWB exam administration, candidates:

- x Have four hours to complete 170 multiple-choice questions administered on a computer
- x Select answers directly on the computer using a mouse and keyboard
- x May take short breaks during the four-hour test at their discretion; testing time does not stop for breaks

View the candidate rules agreement:

Document ed disabilities are protected under federal and/or state law and generally apply to a person who has a physical or mental impairment that substantially limits one or more major life activity.

Other needs that require you to request nonstandard testing arrangements may include:

- x Monitoring device for conditions such as diabetes (see Appendix B for more information)
- x Additional breaks because of pregnancy

Please note: Individuals who need arrangements for

You must request and receive approval for nonstandard testing arrangements

ASWB to take the exam. ASWB requires that you request and receive approval for nonstandard testing arrangements in advance, so the test center is prepared and your testing experience goes smoothly, without compromising exam security. Nonstandard testing arrangements cannot be added to an existing testing appointment.

REQUEST FOR NONSTANDARD TESTING ARRANGEMENTS

Social Work Licensing Exam

Submit the following to request Nonstandard Testing Arrangements

Use the following checklist to ensure all documentation is submitted.

Part I – Candidate Form: Completed by you, the candidate

Part II – Practitioner Form: Completed by the practitioner who has evaluated you, is familiar with your condition, and is qualified to make your specific diagnosis(es)

- x Each practitioner who completes Part II must be listed on Part I of the request.
- x The form must be completed entirely. Do not write “See attached” on the application. If more room is needed, please provide the additional information on professional letterhead and sign each page.
- x If you are seeking nonstandard testing arrangements for a learning disability, you may ask the disability resource center (DRC) staff at the college/university that you attended to fill out part II, the practitioner’s statement, of the application. DRC personnel must also write a letter on their letterhead, signed, that details the nonstandard testing arrangements you received while attending their facility and the duration of those accommodations. If you cannot obtain this documentation, then Part II must be filled out by a practitioner.

Required supporting documents:

- x A personal statement (Appendix A)
- x Diabetes Information, if applicable (Appendix B)
- x Learning disability evaluation report: If requesting nonstandard testing arrangements for a diagnosed learning disability, submit a copy of the most current psychoeducational, psychological, or neuropsychological evaluation that diagnosed or confirmed your learning disability.

Note: ADHD and ADD are not classified as learning disabilities per the DSM 5, and with these diagnoses you must ask a practitioner to complete Part II as indicated above.

Instructions and timeline

- x To avoid delay, submit the Request for Nonstandard Testing Arrangements and all supporting documentation at the same time. Our review cannot begin until all documentation is received. If a request form is incomplete, you will be notified by email.
- x All requests are processed in the order received. It typically takes three weeks for a request form to be processed. ASWB will notify you of the decision by email with a determination letter attached. Approvals are valid up to one (1) year.
- x Requests must be mailed to the address below. Parts I and II must be mailed with original ink signatures. Required supporting documentation can be copies.
